Labour Relations Officer Downtown Victoria

The Professional Employees Association has an exciting opportunity for a Labour Relations Officer.

We are:

The Professional Employees Association is an independent union of professionals. We have a small dedicated team of creative staff who ensure we remain the representative of choice for BC's professionals.

You are:

You are a seasoned Labour Relations Officer with a proven track record of effectiveness in providing a wide range of member services, including:

- grievance research and handling
- collective bargaining
- appearances before arbitration panels and other third party adjudicators

You have excellent communication, research and analytical skills, and a demonstrated ability to work independently with little direction. You work effectively as part of a team and have an understanding of the needs and interests of unionized professionals.

Working at the Professional Employees Association:

This position reports to the Executive Director and works out of our head office in Victoria with occasional travel within British Columbia. We support our staff with professional development and career growth opportunities and offer a highly competitive salary and compensation package.

If you think you'd be a good fit, we'd love to welcome you to our team. Interested applicants are encouraged to seek a full job description from pea.org. Qualified individuals are asked to forward their resume to our Executive Director no later than February 28.

Visit our Online Office at pea.org for more information about our organization.
